Steve Says:

MVTV Executive Director: Stephen Warriner

We are positively encouraged that we have found a new Membership and Project Manager program. The previous program (Facile) has been the only program available to Public Access Stations for decades. We look forward to having a new way to track members and projects.

Michelle's Message

Access Coordinator: Michelle Vivian-Jemison

We are ramping up more than ever since Covid! We have several new members who are excited to create amazing dishes in our State of The Art Studio Kitchen, art based shows, photography focused shows and more! We also have a new intern from MVRHS at MVTV, Shantavia Whyly who is excited to become a meteorologist! Shantavia will be adding to our weekly News Show coming soon!

We also just finished an Oral History Project through the MV Branch of the ASALH Organization, featuring Dr. Thelma Johnson, a decades long educator at various schools.

So much to look forward to! Stay tuned!

CLASSES: are available to members on Orientation, camera use, and video editing.
Contact Michelle at 508-696-9760 to make an appointment.

Shavanae's Tech Desk

Director of Operations: Shavanae Anderson

1. MVTV has purchased and installed new Panasonic UE150 4K robotic cameras inside our main studios. We've been using them for a few months and we are excited to film new shows in the future.

2. Our Kitchen studio is open. If you are interested in filming a show, please call MVTV at 508.696.9760 to set up an appointment for an orientation with Michelle Vivian-Jemison.

What to Watch:

From the Board

It's budget time, and the Board carefully went over the proposed draft for '23, and reviewed last year's expenses. Steve announced that our programmer has resigned due to lack of housing on island, and that he is interviewing job applicants. We are grateful that Laura has been filling in when she can. Steve also reported that new members are signing up, cooks are signing up for cooking shows, and Michelle is teaching classes every day.

Next meeting: 1:30 on March 7th. Public welcome.
